DEPARTMENTAL FELLOWSHIPS 2015-2016

Below is a brief description of each departmental fellowship, with their approximate amounts for the 2014-2015 academic year. The fellowships may be distributed between one or more students.

Penfield
For work on a dissertation in any field of study [$8000]

Halsband
For work on a dissertation in 18th-century English studies [typically 1 to 2 semesters of support]

Carnwath--Callender
For a woman student writing a dissertation on American literature [$6000]

Buckler
For Victorianist dissertation work [$3000]

Tuttleton
For dissertation work on American literature [$2500]

Rosenthal
For dissertation work on 20th-century poetry in the British, American, or postcolonial contexts  [$2000]

Molberger
For dissertation work on the transition-to-modernist period in British literature [c. 1880-1930]  [$12,000]

Millicent Bell
For dissertation work in any area of English and American literature [1 to 2 semesters of support]

Lind American Literature Fellowship
For dissertation work in any area of American literature [$1800]

Richardson
Drama with preference to a person of African-American descent (2013-2014) [$1400]

Gordon Ray Travel Fellowship
Funding summer research-related travel, either to England or to any other location justified by the research project. Both dissertation writers and pre-dissertation-level students are eligible for this award.