Spring 2007 Study Abroad Courses

V41 courses offered through NYU’s Study Abroad programs may be counted toward the English major. These courses may be used to fulfill the advanced elective requirement except where noted below. With advisor approval, students ordinarily may count one non-V41 course toward the major, as well. For more information and for course descriptions: http://www.nyu.edu/studyabroad/undergraduate/index.nyu

FLORENCE
V29.9108.001 Postmodern Fiction: An International Perspective
V59.9270.001 Dante's Divine Comedy *

GHANA
V29. PXXX.001 (Course Number Pending) African Plays and Playwrights
V29.9128.001 The Postcolonial In African Literature

LONDON
V41.9133.001, 003 Modern Drama in Performance in London
V41.9412.001 Major Texts in Critical Theory
V41.9530.002 The English Novel in the Nineteenth Century
V41.9726.001 Postcolonial Literatures in English
V41.9755.001 Women and the Novel **
V41.0975.001 Postcolonial Indian Literature
V41.0976.001 Writing Postcolonial London

MADRID
V95.9200.001 Approaches to Spanish and Spanish American Literary Texts
V95.9211.001 Readings in Spanish American Literature
V95.9371.001 Cervantes *
V95.9671.001 Garcia Lorca: Theatre and Poetry

PARIS
V45.9868.001 Topics in French Literature: The 1950s in America and France
V45.9968.002 Topics in Literature: New Currents In French Literature

PRAGUE
V29.9136.001 Kafka and his Contexts
V29.9190.001 American Literature from a European Perspective (at Charles University)
Students should choose no more than 2 of the courses offered at Charles University; additional Charles University courses will be available to students when they arrive in Prague.

* Can be used to fulfill the Pre-1800 requirement
 Can be used to fulfill the Critical Theories and Methods requirement